

Envision Release 4.5.0.0- Builders

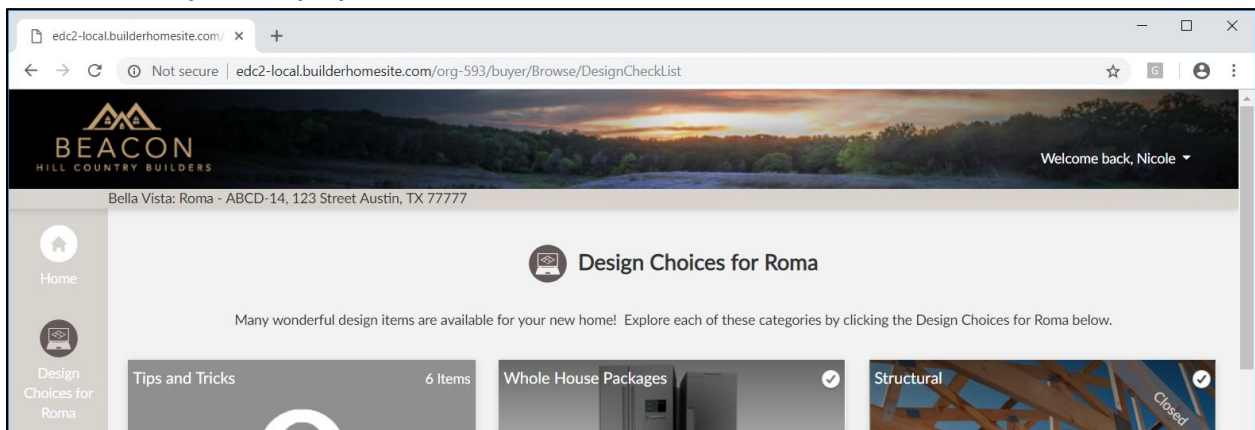

EDC: Community/Plan/Address listed as a sub-header

We have added a sub-header on EDC. This will display the Community, Plan and Address if provided and will display across all EDC pages so the buyer always has that data to reference.

The sub-header banner color and the text color are configurable on the branding page in the DCM.

- Banner color default: Same as the left navigation background color
- Text color default: Black

EDC: Left Navigation Configurability

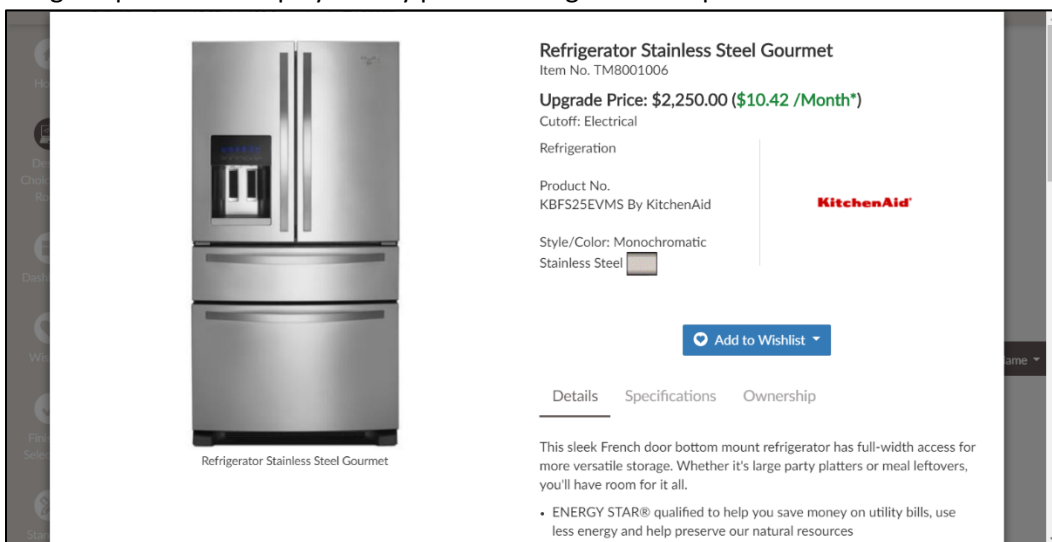

The left navigation options will now be sortable. Home will be permanently the 1st item. Design Choices will permanently be the 2nd item. All other options will be configurable to

- Location: DCM → Branding → EDC Left Navigation Tab
- Sort all tabs besides the first two and publish – This will be the display order for EDC

Additional EDC Updates

- Image Captions will display on any product images have captions associated with them.

- The browser back button is enabled on the category structure to allow an additional way to move back and forward through category selections.

What's Next? - Option Placement on a Floor Plan

This feature will allow builders to assign icons to an option. That icon can be dragged and placed on an image to show the specific location that option should be placed within the home. These images can then be printed to send to the right vendors or to share with the Home Buyers.
